

Dear Friend,

"A revolution always begins from within. This one begins when you decide how you will hold the issues of sexual assault, domestic violence and child abuse within you, and how you live out that decision."

~Mariska Hargitay

Sexual violence is a common and widespread issue that impacts our community every day. In any given classroom of 25 children, five of them will experience sexual victimization before they turn 18 based on national victimization rates. This is an issue that impacts people of all ages, genders, and neighborhoods. There are over 23 million survivors of sexual assault in the United States, and it is time to say "NO MORE" to this crime in our community.

We are asking you to join our efforts to prevent sexual violence and promote healing in Lebanon County by sponsoring our walk and accompanying healing activities! This year the 13th Annual #Thriver Walk will be held in conjunction with a Student-led Sexual Assault Awareness Month Speak-out. The event will take place on Thursday, April 27 at Monument Park in Lebanon City. We invite you to set up a resource table at the Walk and Speak-Out event.

Join us in making real and lasting change in our community. Promote better health, greater opportunities for healing, and resilient futures for every survivor.

Thank you for your consideration!

Featured Speakers

Marsha Lynn Barth (Marty) is an author and inspirational speaker. She has spoken at various retreats and conferences for 20 years. Her goal is to bring a message of healing to the broken and shattered. As a speaker she has spoken to college Criminology and Psychology students; for the University of Hawaii; to State Social Services programs involving advocates and foster parents; to addiction and recovery centers; and at child advocacy venues. She speaks with state and national leaders to bring awareness, prevention, and the importance of knowing the joy of overcoming--going from "Victim to Victor".

Amaya Rodriguez is the 2022 recipient of the Governor's Victim Service Pathfinder Award for Student Activism. The Pennsylvania Commission on Crime & Delinquency honored Amaya in November for her efforts to plan a student speak-out, talk with school and community leaders, and develop educational materials for high school students on getting support after sexual assault.
